A REPORT ON THE

Delaware COVID-19
Strategic Response Fund

FIRST EIGHT WEEKS
OUR FRIENDS,

There are moments of tragedy seared on the American consciousness.

These are also the moments when our community shines.

We are living inside one of those moments — a national emergency, a generational tragedy, unfolding day-to-day as if in slow motion. The COVID-19 pandemic has taken more than 110,000 American lives – 410 in Delaware alone as of June 9 – and radically altered our way of life, resulting in record unemployment, families living in isolation, schools closed, business shuttered, support systems inaccessible.

Our resolve is once again tested. And our community is responding.

In partnership with generous people throughout our state, the philanthropic community of Delaware has united to direct resources to where they are needed most.

Just two weeks after Governor Carney declared a state of emergency, the first grants of the Delaware COVID-19 Strategic Response Fund were feeding hungry children and seniors, providing childcare for essential workers, housing the most vulnerable members of our community, and delivering counseling and telehealth services for families in need.

And that was only the beginning.

In the next few pages, we will offer a glimpse of the multi-faceted ways you have helped Delawareans in every corner of the state over the first eight weeks of this emergency, between March 27 and May 22. This pandemic has touched every aspect of our lives. Our response has been and must continue to be just as diverse.

Thanks to your continued support, our community will continue to create new opportunities to grow, to thrive, and to be with each other once again when this crisis has lifted. We look forward to seeing you then.

Housing and Food

YMCA

GRANT: $50,000
PURPOSE: Feed families in need

One of dozens of agencies to receive Strategic Response Fund grants for emergency food distribution, the YMCA handed out food from the Central YMCA, Bear-Glasgow YMCA, Sussex YMCA, Middletown YMCA, Western Family YMCA, Brandywine YMCA and Dover YMCA. “One family has come to every one of our distribution events, both for non-perishable food boxes and the child backpack program,” said Angie Riley, YMCA business manager. “They are a family of six. The father is the caregiver of his wife, who has been battling breast cancer for several years. They are truly grateful.”

Love INC of Mid-Delmarva

GRANT: $50,000
PURPOSE: Provide emergency shelter for the at-risk homeless population

Love INC of Mid-Delmarva, one of several organizations funded to provide housing during the pandemic, reactivated Code Purple Sussex County to provide emergency shelter for homeless men and women with underlying health issues during the pandemic. Case managers visit residents every day, bringing meals, performing health check-ups, and providing some socially distanced company. They’ve also helped find temporary housing for poultry workers who tested positive but were unable to safely isolate at home.

Modern Maturity

GRANT: $100,000
PURPOSE: Deliver meals to seniors

Strategic Response Fund grants are helping the Modern Maturity Center and numerous other senior centers ensure that older Delawareans have healthy meals. Modern Maturity volunteers received a timely assist from Delaware National Guard soldiers during an emergency food distribution event on May 13, when 20 active duty soldiers delivered hundreds of food boxes to Meals on Wheels clients, in addition to the 1,500 meals volunteers deliver around Kent County every day.
Survivors of Abuse in Recovery, Inc. (SOAR)

GRANT: $33,325
PURPOSE: Support victims of sexual trauma

Shifting to telehealth created significant challenges and expenses for nonprofit healthcare providers. Many survivors of sexual abuse and assault found therapy programs halted or postponed at the start of the pandemic. With a grant from the Strategic Response Fund, SOAR acquired computers and software for staff members and clients statewide, and their work continues.

Westside Family Healthcare

PURPOSE: $50,000
MISSION: Care for prenatal and chronically ill patients

Westside Family Healthcare in Wilmington made immediate improvements to its newly launched telehealth program, helping to handle what could be hundreds of calls a day. “We must continue keeping vulnerable populations healthy, and we have to keep those people with non-life-threatening illnesses out of hospitals,” said President/CEO Lolita A. Lopez. “This all has to be done while making sure our health care professionals, those on the front lines of this outbreak, can do their life-saving work safely and return home to their families.”

Stop the Violence Prayer Chain

PURPOSE: $2,500
MISSION: Provide children in Wilmington with food and supplies

“I just left New Castle, and dropped food off for three families out there. We dropped off diapers and milk and sandwiches,” said founder Margaret Guy. “They’re in need, because schools are closed. They have a hard time finding food. So we just do this every day, to try to help these families that we can.”
Nonprofits and Veterans

Delaware Shakespeare

GRANT: $7,500
PURPOSE: Keep the arts performing online

Many theaters closed in the first days of the emergency shut down, but Delaware Shakespeare was one that continued finding ways to perform online, paying professional actors to perform sonnets from their living rooms and organizing dozens of state leaders, community members and essential workers to participate in a virtual Shakespeare Day, streamed free online. The Strategic Response Fund supports several arts and cultural organizations that add to quality of life and play a critical role in our economy.

Blood Bank of Delmarva

GRANT: $20,000
PURPOSE: Learn more about the asymptomatic spread of the SARS-CoV-2 virus in Delaware

The Blood Bank of Delmarva collects convalescent plasma units from people who have recovered from COVID-19, and provides them to hospital customers for transfusion to critically ill COVID-19 patients and to clinical trials. With support from the Strategic Response Fund, pre-clinical trials began on May 15 and will continue through the summer.

Warriors Helping Warriors

GRANT: $10,000
PURPOSE: Provide case management to veterans

The Brian Conley Veterans Resiliency Center in Middletown celebrated its first anniversary in the middle of the COVID-19 pandemic. In that year, 32 homeless veterans found shelter at the center. As other funding streams dried up, the Strategic Response Fund helped Warriors Helping Warriors continue to serve Delaware veterans in need.
Choir School of Delaware

GRANT: $37,500
PURPOSE: Go virtual with after-school tutoring and summer programs

Volunteer tutors and mentors are now using virtual tools to ensure choristers in Wilmington have access to academic support and music education, while the school’s intergenerational choir is able to keep singing together every week. With support from the Strategic Response Fund, the Choir School will continue serving at-risk students with STEAM-focused programming through the summer.

Easterseals Delaware & Maryland’s Eastern Shore

GRANT: $59,000
PURPOSE: Provide therapy remotely and purchase thermal scanners for locations statewide

As the pandemic keeps people home, therapists at Easterseals turned to teletherapy while working with their young patients statewide. “I can’t speak highly enough about the Easterseals team,” said one mom. “I like teletherapy because I feel like the therapist is instructing me. It helps me understand more about what they are working on together.”

Ingleside Homes

GRANT: $79,000
PURPOSE: Protect seniors in long-term care

All facilities are closed to visitors. Costly single-serving meals are delivered to residents in their apartments. Through rigorous sanitizing, temperature monitoring, the use of protective personal equipment, and a totally revamped cafeteria operation, Ingleside is protecting its 350 seniors and 151 employees from COVID-19.

Help Delaware Recover and Thrive

This is the story of what our community has done so far through the Delaware COVID-19 Strategic Response Fund.

But this is a story that is only beginning.

Delawareans are still suffering – in need of food, shelter, medical care and other services – and it is increasingly clear that those needs will still be felt for weeks and months to come.

This effort started as a sprint. Now, we must prepare to go the distance.

Please consider giving to the Delaware COVID-19 Strategic Response Fund at the Delaware Community Foundation at delcf.org/covid19-fund or using the enclosed envelope.
